

Chief Minister to liberalise the way of issue of these certificates to SC/ST and backward classes and issue modified orders. Can the Hon'ble Chief Minister give an assurance in this behalf?

SRI D. DEVARAJ URS.—I think the rules framed are not so difficult as the hon'ble member thinks. There is the Government Order and no affidavit is necessary according to the present rule. That is why the Gazetted officers have been empowered to issue these certificates, and a number of officers are also empowered. Beyond this nothing could be done. As I have already stated everything is some what difficult; we cannot help it. Some people want to take these certificates in advance thinking that their children are going to apply for jobs after completion of their education. I wish to draw the attention of the hon'ble members to the Government Order has already been issued—it is existing—and accordingly the Gazetted officers are empowered to issue these certificates. At the moment, we have not come across such difficulties. The hon'ble members who are conversant with the difficulties may write to us and we will examine, and if there is anything to be improved upon we shall do it, otherwise we will continue to have the present system.

SRI M. M. SAJJAN.—May I know why one class of Ganigas and Agasas are included in the list of backward classes and why the other class of Ganigas are excluded from the list?

SRI D. DEVARAJ URS.—That question does not arise.
